

simply sophisticated spaces

A beautiful space not living up to its potential just needed some thoughtful editing and regrouping.

Items in storage behind the sofa were donated, repurposed or relocated.

Two of five tables in the room were also relocated and plans are underway for a gallery wall in an adjacent hall to display the pictures removed from shelves and table tops.

An objective, some might say ruthless, analysis of the shelves resulted in major reductions of stuff. What remains is truly meaningful to the homeowner.

The reoriented mirror hangs where the oil portrait once did. The portrait feels more at home over the fireplace with a few of the homeowner's special pieces.

The recessed ceiling fixtures were insufficient for the space, table lamps were recommended and added, along with throw pillows for updated pops of color.
